

DAY CITIANS GUESTS OF GRAYLING LODGE

SENATOR A. H. GANNSEY GAVE ADDRESS

One of the outstanding fraternal events of the season was the visit of Bay City Lodge No. 129, F. & A. M., to Grayling Lodge No. 356. A special train over the Michigan Central carried the visitors with all their fraternal trappings. Enroute the train picked up visitors from Pinconning, Standish, Sterling, West Branch, Rose City and Roscommon. On arrival at Grayling the guests were escorted to the Michelson Memorial community center, where dinner was served to nearly 200 guests. Carl Peterson, master of Grayling Lodge, called Rev. J. W. Greenwood to preside over the banquet functions. Music was furnished by Emil Spatz of Saginaw and the DelMolay orchestra of Bay City. Special numbers were rendered during the evening by Roscoe Roeder and Fred Schroeder of Bay City. Brief addresses were given by Carl Peterson, Grayling; Earl E. Reynolds and Capt. W. D. Parke, Bay City; William H. Hale, Jesse M. Green and William Curnalia, Roscommon; W. E. Wilson, Gaylord; and A. A. Coffman, Harrison. The principal address was given by Col. A. H. Gannsey in behalf of the visiting guests. He recalled the strenuous effort in 1912 and 1915 in Michigan's Legislature, which resulted in landing Michigan's National Guard encampment permanently on Lake Michigan near Grayling. He recalled the hospitality of Grayling, especially during the stirring mid-summer days of 1916, when Michigan's National Guard mobilized at Grayling for duty on the Mexican border, and later for duty in France, Belgium and Germany, during and after the World War. The Grayling camp with its healthy location amid the rolling country of Crawford county, and its long distance artillery ranges and airplane landing field, has long been acknowledged one of the finest cantonments for America's volunteers. Folks from Bay City enjoy visiting Grayling camp, the Grayling fish hatchery, state forests and game reserves. On the other hand Bay City always welcomes the Grayling folks to the annual midsummer carnival and other worthwhile diversions. In behalf of the visiting Bay Cityans, he extended an invitation to Grayling Lodge to visit Bay City at an early day. The roll call of the evening showed 23 different lodges represented, from four different states. The ritual work was exemplified by the Bay City Fellowship club in charge of Emil Spatz and Robt. E. Walton, in the gymnasium of the high school. The Grayling lodge hall was destroyed by fire two weeks ago. The evening's program concluded with a midnight luncheon and community singing. The special train reached Bay City at 4 A. M. and all on board voted the outing one of the happiest ever.

It was a representative gathering and one that will be remembered by all present for many years to come. The honor of life memberships were conferred upon Melvin A. Bates of Grayling and Christian Haller of Clare. The former joined Grayling lodge in 1890 and Mr. Haller in 1886. H. A. Bauman was to have been similarly honored but was absent from the city. He joined Grayling lodge in 1889. Twenty-nine lodges were represented at the meeting. Twenty-three of these were from Michigan, four from other states and two from Canada. The banquet was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star lodge in Michelson Memorial church, 140 sitting down to the long tables. This was one of the best handled banquets that has ever been served there, according to some of the members, and that is saying a lot.

At the lodge meeting in the school house there were 165 master Masons in attendance. The first division of the initiatory work was conducted by the officers of Grayling lodge—Carl W. Peterson, W. M.; George Schiabe, S. W.; Harry Hemmingson, J. W.; W. Lewis, secretary; Wm. Curnalia, S. D.; and Otto Failing, J. D. The stewards were Holger F. Peterson, Thomas Clark, Ronnow Hanson and E. N. Darveau. Roy Holmberg acted as tyler of the lodge. The second division of the work was done by members of Bay City lodge. They brot with them an entire set of equipment for putting on the work, as Grayling Lodge had lost theirs in the recent fire that completely destroyed their temple and its contents. The big school gymnasium made an ideal place for the meeting and amply accommodated the large crowd that was in attendance. The decorations left over from the annual Junior prom of the night before added largely to the attractiveness of the setting. Henry Borchers was the lucky candidate of the evening and we feel certain that the event will be one of his cherished memories for the rest of his lifetime.

EDITORS WILL MEET AT BLANEY PARK

The annual meeting of the Michigan Press association will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 26, 27 and 28 at Blaney Park, according to plans made by the upper peninsula editors at a meeting held Saturday at Norway.

Pat O'Brien, editor of the Iron River Reporter, is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements. Joe Sturgeon, editor of the Delta Reporter, Gladstone, is secretary. Claud Riley of the Ontonagon Herald, Herb Case of the Munising News, and W. G. Fretz of Newberry will assist in the details.

According to the tentative plans, the gathering will be opened with a barbecue Thursday evening at the Blaney Park. It will be sponsored by several paper mills and printing supply houses.

Friday evening the editors and their guests will be entertained at a dinner to be given under the auspices of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau in the Manistee high school gym. Chase S. Osborn, of Sault Ste. Marie, will be the speaker. The convention will be concluded Saturday with a picnic at the State Hospital at Newberry, and Sunday, the day following, will be devoted to a boat trip to the Tahquamenon falls for all those who desire to make it. Golf and various other forms of outdoor sports is on the amusement program at Blaney, and there will be bridge for the ladies.

THIS IS NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK

In this day when music is being emphasized as a vital and spiritual need of the people and when more and more mechanical music is being presented for listening, there is obviously a return to avocational music. When songs and instrumental themes are a conscious possession from the standpoint of appreciation, individual and emmasse participation, music becomes a delightful personal experience and contributes generously to the joys of others, and embellishes the school, family, and community life.

To this end the citizens of Michigan are called upon to participate in the observance of National Music Week in which the slogan, "Music for Everybody and Everybody for Music" may become a happy realization.

Given under my hand at the Capitol in Lansing this 16th day of April, 1930.

(Signed) Fred W. Green, Governor.

1—Scene on the deck of the whaler C. A. Larsen at New York, which brought back the dogs and some of the men of the Byrd Antarctic expedition. 2—Enterprise, contender for place of defender of the America's cup, having its first spin under command of Commodore Vanderbilt. 3—Mrs. Lella Morse Rummel placing wreath at statue of her father, Samuel Morse, inventor of the telegraph, on one hundred thirty-ninth anniversary of his birth.

JUNIOR CLASS GIVES FINE PARTY

MUSIC AND DECORATIONS PLEASE LARGE CROWD

The annual Junior Prom, the big event in the school lives of that class, held last Friday evening, was very much of a success in every way.

For several days the members of the class had been busy trimming the big school auditorium and when the time arrived for the party we doubt if the gym ever looked prettier. Crepe paper, colors of the spectrum, were used in the huge canopy that hung from near the center of the room to the side walls, falling to wall seats that surrounded the room. In the top center was a large aeroplane, also made of paper over a frame. At intervals about the room colored spotlights shown thru the maze of colorings, adding greatly to the color effect of the room. Wicker seats and wicker lamps added comfort as well as attractiveness. The orchestra was seated in a crepe paper lattice nook at one end of the gym, at the sides of which were shields with the words "Class of 1931."

The "Michigan-Men" orchestra of Art Arbo, furnished the music and more than pleased the dancers. Emerson Brown of Grayling, a member of the orchestra, did much of the solo vocal work and maintained his reputation as a vocalist of unusual ability.

The Grand march was led by Miss Loretta Sorenson, president of the class, and Thorwald Sorenson, president of the senior class, and Miss Mary Schumann and Carl Sherman. It was a very pretty sight to see the marchers in their attractive habiliments, as they were lead in columns of two and four thru the graceful formations.

Punch and wafers were served by the guests by courteous young members of the class, which was very refreshing. It was a charming party indeed and a credit to the hosts of the evening.

Guests were present from many cities and a large number of alumni were home for the occasion. Among those from out of town were Miss Ruby Stephan, Toledo; Miss Francella Failing, Dayton, Ohio; Sigurd Johnson, Miss Mary Reid, Manistee; Vern Inez—Anderson, Ludington; Vern Smith, Midland; George Granger, Lansing; Miss Genevieve Montour, Ann Arbor; Charles Hanover, Ypsilanti; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown, Bay City; Mr. and Mrs. John Gohl, Miss Margaret Gohl, Hillman, Misses Helen Preston, Margaret Gardner, Duane McWilliams, Mason Dutton, James Price, Darrell Matheson, Stuart Rutledge, Roscommon; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Koepfen, Miss Martha Bidwin, Matt Bidwin, Miss James Hartwick, Mr. and Mrs. William Garner, Detroit.

MOTOR SERVICE ON SUNDAY

An automobile man thinks week-end motorists are a pretty dumb lot.

"How many scores of cars," he says, "have you seen on any nice Sunday, standing in line at messy greasing and filling stations, while father tramps impatiently chewing his cigar and the family swelters in the waiting car? Most of the drivers do not seem to realize that they are spending the most valuable thing they possess—their leisure time—and are taking a chance of having their maintenance work half done and their repairs ruined by employing this costly and haphazard type of service."

Why not, he wants to know, have such things taken care of during the week, along with any little repair work needed, so that when the family goes out for a pleasant week-end drive there will be some pleasure in it?—Bemidji (Minn.) Sentinel.

CARD OF THANKS

We acknowledge with sincere appreciation the many acts of kindness of our neighbors and friends during our late bereavement.

Mrs. William Foley and family.

WILLIAM FOLEY LAID TO REST

The funeral of William Foley, who passed away at Mercy Hospital last week Thursday morning, was held Saturday afternoon from the family home on Chestnut street. He was 72 years of age. Rev. Greenwood conducted the service and interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

William Michael Foley was born in Roscommon, Ireland, June 20th, 1857. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Foley and came to this country with his parents at the age of five years. Five years later he was left an orphan and with his sister Winifred, made his home with Dr. Niles, Grayling.

He was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Bradley September 18, 1894. To this union were born four children—Matilda, Margaret, Gertrude and William. The family resided in Oscoda county for about 35 years, where Mr. Foley was counted as one of that community's substantial citizens. His genial, friendly personality won for him a wide acquaintance and many warm friends, and his passing is a real loss.

He is survived by his widow and four children—Mrs. Matilda Bishop, principal in Cleveland, Ohio school; Mrs. Margaret McGivern, Detroit; Gertrude, teacher in Pontiac schools, and William, a sophomore in Grayling high school.

Those present at the funeral from out of the city were: Mrs. Matilda Bishop, Shaker Heights, Cleveland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McGivern, Detroit; Miss Gertrude Pontiac; Mr. Philip Boucher, Grosse Ile; Mr. A. ## GAYLORD NAVAL REST AIRPORT IS DEDICATED

Five naval planes flew from the Grosse Ile station to Gaylord Saturday for the dedication of a naval rest port there in honor of Ensign William H. McMullen, Detroit, who was killed recently in squadron maneuvers in Panama.

A tract of land 150 by 300 feet, fronting on Tacon lake in the Highland lake estate, was donated to the navy by A. D. Saunders, of Detroit. The government is to construct an officers' lodge on this property this summer at an estimated cost of $10,000.

This property lies two miles west of the south end of Otsego lake.

GRAYLING HIGH WINS 2 GAMES

Grayling lifted two scalps as the result of a pair of encounters on the diamond. Mantou took the count to the tune of 13 and 6 on Saturday in their local appearance, and Mio absorbed a revenge beating on their home lot. The score was 7-3 and Grayling was proportionately pleased.

These two victories came as a result of some hard hitting. The attack of the Northern Lights was hard and vicious. The opposition felt the force of Grayling bats and gave way as the Lights pounded out these victories in a complete revival of hitting power.

Mantou went into the seventh with a lead of three runs and high hopes of tucking away a victory. But hopes are treacherous and deceitful. By the time the third out had been made Grayling had done plenty of business. Nine runs crossed the tally station and Mantou was completely subdued. Pitcher Murray gave up the center of the diamond as an overly hot location and retired to think it over. He will probably try for his revenge when Grayling takes the jamond at Mantou later on.

Grayling deserved to win this game. The team hit viciously, scoring eight earned runs to a pair for the opponents. Sherman cracked the spheroid for a double and a triple, while Rudy Harrison poled out a home run as the high point of the hitting. The Lights totaled twenty-bases as a result of their offense, besides turning in three two-plays on the paths. Mantou was rather thoroughly subdued. Schmidt and Sheehy appeared in the box for the green and white with the former bearing the heavy end of the hurling. Schmidt went back into the center of the diamond after Sheehy was involved in trouble which left every corner occupied by an anxious Mantouan desirous of transportation across the rubber.

Mio took a 7-3 trimming on their own field Monday. Grayling got a lot of satisfaction out of handing Mio a setback, for the opponents copped a decision in the first game for the locals.

The Northern Lights presented a more or less patched up array to the enemy, but things ran off smoothly enough and the hitting of the nine was enough to carry through to victory. Hits were not as plentiful as in the Mantou bombardment, Grayling accounting for seven bingles including two doubles off the bats of Daugherty and Sherman, and Mio annexing only four safe blows. Three of them came in the fourth when three runs came across.

Grayling took an early lead. Both teams got one in the second, and Grayling achieved another in the third. Mio got three in the fourth which ended their scoring, but the Northern Lights picked up single counters in the fifth and sixth and clinched the victory with three in the lucky seventh. The last two innings were uneventful enough.

Grayling has shown a decided improvement in play as the schedule progresses. The increase in base hits is especially gratifying and that is what will continue to win ball games. West Branch is scheduled for this week end and rivalry is going to be keen.

WEST BRANCH DISTRICT IS THE FIRST TO BE ORGANIZED IN THE EASTERN MICHIGAN WATER CARNIVAL

At an enthusiastic meeting held there April 30, with about 100 in attendance, city chairmen were named by W. A. Crandell, District Chairman, and preliminary plans were made for the selection of queens from each of the towns.

The following were named: T. Strahauer, Alger; B. J. Courver, Rose City; Mike Langhau, Pruden-ville; James Oliver, Houghton Lake; Stanco, E. Hager, Mio; H. E. Eymers, Prescott; and J. H. Grover, St. Helen.

A feature of the meeting at West Branch was the selection of a junior queen in a little pageant done entirely by children about six years old. The judges also were juveniles, and their method of selection was by lot.

Other districts are progressing well. C. E. Weaver accepted last week the chairmanship of the Standish district, and he promised a sectional meeting within about two weeks. At East Tawas R. G. Schrock, the chairman there, reports that the queen contest may be a feature of the celebration to occur there July 4.

Advance reports indicate that the regatta to be held during the carnival, which takes place at Bay City July 31, Aug. 1 and 2, will be the biggest ever held in the Midwest. As a fair sample of the interest aroused may be mentioned the request for 300 entry blanks last week from the Detroit Outboard Association. Frank H. Stover, Jr., has hopes for 400 entries in the power boat races, of which he is chairman.

BAND TO SELECT OFFICERS

Friday night following the outdoor concert, the band will hold a meeting in the Board of Trade rooms for the purpose of electing officers and a manager.

The public is interested in this matter and all are invited and urged to attend.

Mothers' Day

MAY 11, 1930

TO MY MOTHER—IN HEAVEN

"How do I love thee? Let me count the ways.
I love thee to the depth and breadth and height
My soul can reach, when feeling out of sight
For the ends of being and ideal grace
I love thee to the level of every day's
Most quiet need, by sun and candlelight
I love thee freely, as men strive for right;
I love thee purely, as they turn from praise;
I love thee with the passion put to use
In my old griefs, and with my childhood faith;
I love thee with a love I seemed to lose
With my lost saints—I love thee with the breath,
Smiles, tears, of all my life!—and if God choose,
I shall love thee better after death."

—Selected.

How shall I remember her? I shall be in the church to join with her in the spirit of worship. Shall we look for you there too? The hour—10:30 A. M.

MOTHER'S DAY

Sunday, May 11th, is "Mother's Day." It is one of the most sacred days of the entire year. Around it is entwined memories of a sainted soul that touches every heartstring. One rarely falls so low in human estimation that "Mother's Day" does not mean something more than just another mark on the calendar of time. If your mother is living go with her to church next Sunday. If she has been gathered to her reward go to church and take your place in the family pew in reverence to her memory. Spend the hour in recalling her kindly, patient ways, her sacrifices, her devotion to those she loved. Next Sunday is her day. Remember it and keep it holy.

THEY SWARM IN SPRINGTIME

From many communities come complaints of the peddler evil. Swarms of these so-called salesmen are pouring out of the cities at the present time invading the smaller cities and villages. They are selling everything from sharpeners to broadcloth smuggled in on some foreign battleship. Rarely ever does the householder get a square deal.

If the person who calls at your door happens to be a resident of this community, it is known to you, then that is a different matter entirely. In that case you will without doubt get your money's worth.

Strangers should be given a short shrift. You have no guarantee that any statement made by them regarding their wares is true. Invariably if you listen to their blandishments you are the loser. In no case does it pay to take a chance.

Don't encourage them—don't let them take up your time. Your home town merchant will serve you in a much more satisfactory manner.

TIPSTER SHEETS

"With an increased activity of the market the faking tipsters are at it again."

"So-called 'inside information' is being spewed out in great volume from the manufacturing of lies, half-truths, evasions and hyperbole that work overtime in a bull market."

"More financial suicides, wrecks and irretrievable losses have been created by listening to these false prophets than we even care to compute. THE TIPSTER IS THE PARASITE OF THE MARKET, the tool of the financial world, the slave of greed and cupidity."

"A relentless war is being waged against him for every honest and sound financial organization stands squarely under the slogan, 'THE TIPSTER MUST GO!'"

"But he cannot thrive—cannot even exist—if the investing and speculating public will do nothing more than to simply ignore him."

"That is good advice—to follow—coming as it does from a 'tipster sheet' being sent out from one of our large cities by the hundreds of thousands. In spite of the warning they themselves give there will be many suckers who will take hold of their bait. By the time these dupes awaken to the fact they have been taken for a financial ride the tipsters have moved to a new location, perhaps to another city. Take them at their word—leave them alone. Take the advice of your banker or broker—there is a lot of heartaches it will save you later on."

One would hardly recognize the Mac & Gidley drug store. The old fixtures have been supplanted by new, modern, mahogany wall cases and a new "All-White Knight" 12 foot soda fountain. The old showcases that took up so much floor space have been taken out with exception of the cigar case and another case across the rear of the room. The old prescription room partition has been removed and a new prescription room built in the place formerly used as a stock room. This feature too is now most complete with every convenience that might be wished for, and all drugs systematically arranged for service.

The new fountain is being connected up at this time and will be ready for service in a few days. Mr. McNamara says they will have room for about 8 or 10 serving tables. By the use of wall cases practically all lines of stock are in view of the patrons of the store, and still there is little floor space taken up. The store has a modern metropolitan appearance and one that is certain to make a most favorable impression with everyone entering it. Plans are being made for opening the new soda fountain about next week Saturday. The firm of Mac & Gidley are to be congratulated for their enterprise, which we are sure will be appreciated by the public at home and by the tourists who stop there on their way thru our city.

REPLYING to an inquiry from Senator McNary, the chairman of the farm board said that body does not favor the abolition of grain and cotton exchanges by act of congress, as proposed by Senator Caraway, although it does favor better supervision of them.

As for cotton, it appears that the farmers' co-operatives have been turning the tables on the traders and put them into a "squeeze play" that has cost the shorts millions of dollars. The co-operatives, it was estimated, held in May and July contracts or in spot cotton unsold in the South more than a million bales, and it was conceded that the big operators who will have to put up actual cotton will have to pay fancy prices for these bales.

SPEAKING to some six thousand daughters of the American Revolution gathered in Washington for their thirty-ninth continental congress, President Hoover earnestly argued in behalf of American entry into the World court and said he had no doubt that the United States would soon find a way for such action. He declared American adherence would not constitute an "entangling alliance" and that it had been recommended "by every one of our Presidents and every one of our secretaries of state living since its inception."

The Daughters, who as a body have evidenced their opposition to American participation in the World court, duly applauded Mr. Hoover. He was more warmly cheered when he advocated national defense forces strong enough to prevent invasion of American shores, when he pledged that during his administration the United States would refrain from entanglements in European diplomacy, and when he praised the results of the London naval conference.

Two days later the Daughters adopted reports demanding the maintenance of sufficient military and naval equipment to meet any emergency that may face the United States in the future, and opposing the scrapping of American ships until the major powers sign a limitation treaty. They evinced dislike for the three-power agreement concluded in London by the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Legge Says Export Deben- ture Would Bring on a Foreign Embargo.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S opposition to the export debenture plan as a means of solving the wheat problem, now incorporated in the pending tariff bill, has received the support of Chairman Alexander Legge of the federal farm board. In a radio address broadcast by the National Farmers' union, Mr. Legge predicted the adoption of this plan would have dire results.

"Some persons think a way should be found so that the world market price would apply only to the surplus production and have the tariff effective on the wheat sold at home," Mr. Legge declared. "To my mind this is impractical."

"At the present time you see the situation of France paying a bounty of 20 cents a bushel on the export of certain grades of wheat, of which they have an excess supply, and Great Britain taking measures to retaliate. A few weeks ago, in parliament, Lloyd George made the statement that if the United States tried to ship wheat to England at a price lower than domestic price levels he would not be satisfied with a duty, but that the remedy should be an embargo prohibiting the importation of any wheat from this country."

"All of the consuming countries of the world are watching us closely. I am satisfied that they would take prompt measures to retaliate in the event exporting was done on a basis which they believe would be unfair to their growers, just as we do in this country under such circumstances."

Defending the board's setup of central marketing associations, Mr. Legge stressed the point that these "are not government agencies, as some critics who cry 'Socialism' would have the country believe, but, instead, are the instrumentalities of the producers, who grow crops, to market these crops to their best advantage."

William G. Kellogg has resigned as general manager of the Farmers' National Grain corporation and vice president of the Grain Stabilization corporation, both of which are sponsored by the federal farm board.

Mr. Legge says he believes the farm board is meeting with success in its wheat acreage reduction program. Information received by the board is that in the West and Northwest the farm leaders and farmers themselves are endorsing the plan.

REPLYING to an inquiry from Senator McNary, the chairman of the farm board said that body does not favor the abolition of grain and cotton exchanges by act of congress, as proposed by Senator Caraway, although it does favor better supervision of them.

As for cotton, it appears that the farmers' co-operatives have been turning the tables on the traders and put them into a "squeeze play" that has cost the shorts millions of dollars. The co-operatives, it was estimated, held in May and July contracts or in spot cotton unsold in the South more than a million bales, and it was conceded that the big operators who will have to put up actual cotton will have to pay fancy prices for these bales.

SPEAKING to some six thousand daughters of the American Revolution gathered in Washington for their thirty-ninth continental congress, President Hoover earnestly argued in behalf of American entry into the World court and said he had no doubt that the United States would soon find a way for such action. He declared American adherence would not constitute an "entangling alliance" and that it had been recommended "by every one of our Presidents and every one of our secretaries of state living since its inception."

The Daughters, who as a body have evidenced their opposition to American participation in the World court, duly applauded Mr. Hoover. He was more warmly cheered when he advocated national defense forces strong enough to prevent invasion of American shores, when he pledged that during his administration the United States would refrain from entanglements in European diplomacy, and when he praised the results of the London naval conference.

Two days later the Daughters adopted reports demanding the maintenance of sufficient military and naval equipment to meet any emergency that may face the United States in the future, and opposing the scrapping of American ships until the major powers sign a limitation treaty. They evinced dislike for the three-power agreement concluded in London by the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

DEAR FRIENDS:

Yesterday I applied for a job here at Peterson's Gift Shop. Mr. Peterson asked me what I could do. I told him that I didn't have much to recommend myself except that I was ambitious and had nice folks.

Then he asked me if I could write ads! I told him I didn't know, I'd never tried.

He didn't ask me if I could run a locomotive or play the piano. If he had, I'd have told him the same thing.

I never wrote an ad in my life.

But I got the job!

And now it's up to me to deliver or starve. This is my opener.

Guess I won't talk shop this time. Next week I'll see if I can't tell you something interesting about Peterson's Jewelry & Gift business.

WHILE many of the delegates to the London conference were scattering for the Easter holidays, the drafting committee was hustling to complete the proposed treaty in time for the five nations to approve and sign it at a plenary session set for April 22. The chief difficulty that arose in connection with the three-power agreement was the wording of an "escape" clause allowing any one of the three powers which have agreed on a limitation in all categories of ships to exceed the fixed limits in case any outside power builds so as to become dangerous. This was satisfactorily adjusted.

To meet demands of the Japanese, Secretary of State Stimson and Senator Reed entered into a "gentlemen's agreement" with Reijiro Wakatsuki, head of the Japanese delegation, and Admiral Takarabe that the United States would not build during the life of this treaty the additional tonnage of light cruisers to which it is entitled if it should decide not to build the last three of the 18 heavy cruisers allowed by the pact. Consequently, until the next arms conference, Japan is allowed 74 per cent of America's aggregate tonnage in cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

President Hoover has said that the United States will save a billion dollars as a result of the three-power pact. Others estimate the saving in naval construction at half that amount. Great Britain will save $300,000,000 and Japan $200,000,000. Information in Washington is that the pacifist groups will work for ratification of the treaty and then will campaign against the appropriation of funds to keep it in operation. The pact probably will not be submitted to the senate until next December during the short session.

The Old Peoples Social Club met last week at the home of Henry Moon. A fine dinner was served as usual after which the business meeting was held. There were discussions on several farm topics among which was an excellent talk by John Love on raising onions in this country.

Farm Notes

Do not sow soybeans too deep. Deep covering often injures the stand.

Farmers are warned by the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry against investing their money and placing their faith in hog-cholera medicines. Anti-hog-cholera serum is the only thing known that is a reliable preventive.

When animals refuse to eat sweetclover pasture it is usually because the growth is too rank before they acquired a taste for it. There is no trouble in getting livestock to eat sweetclover if they are turned on it before the growth is big and tough.

Young pigs need plenty of exercise to prevent them from becoming too fat. It is often necessary to force the pigs to take exercise several times a day during first ten days of their lives. The indications of too much fat are small rolls of fat around the neck and jerky breathing. The common term for this trouble is "thumps."

Calves less than six months of age can not make the best use of pasture and if put on it should be given, in addition, a full feed of skim milk or milk substitute and enough grain to keep them growing rapidly. Heifers from 6 to 12 months of age, however, need little or no feed other than pasture during the spring and summer when the pasturage is good.

Success in destroying the injurious peach-tree borer with paradi-chlorobenzene depends largely on applying the chemical to the tree at the end of the egg laying period of the insect. Consult the U. S. Department of Agriculture, or your State agricultural college or county agent, to find out the right time in your locality. Paradi-chlorobenzene can be used with safety on healthy peach trees 4 years of age or older. For younger trees the old methods of "worming" must be resorted to for better control.

After terracing eroded or run-down land it is wise to improve the soil for a year or more with cover crops and soil-building crops, rather than to grow a money crop immediately. Soybeans, cowpeas, and velvet beans are good summer crops for this purpose. Rye and vetch are especially good as winter cover crops to bind the soil and to add organic matter.

Black walnut planted in unused or "waste places" on the farm or in good-sized openings in woodlands is likely to make a profitable crop. Rough, hilly places where the soil is good but otherwise poorly adapted to crops, large fence corners, fenced rows, hollows, ravines, stream banks, and large pockets of good soil among rocky outcroppings in fields and pastures are excellent places for growing black walnut. Do not let sycamore, soft maple, alder, willow, beech, black gum, dogwood, or worthless shrubs occupy such places, says the Forest Service. Black walnut yields edible nuts and produces useful and valuable timber.

Farm woodlands occupy a substantial place in farm economy in a program for the development of agriculture in Franklin County, Maine, recommended recently by a special committee of farmers and other business men appointed by the County Farm bureau. The Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture notes that the committee found that 10 per cent of the total receipts of the average Franklin County farm came from wood and lumber. In two types of farming operation recommended by the committee for farms calculated to do an annual business of $3,000, the sale of wood from the farms and timberlands accounts for at least $200 a year. The committee recommends the following adjustments in the management of farm woodlands: (1) make selective cuttings, (2) thin all farm woodlands to favor the growth of the more valuable trees, (3) reforest waste areas.

HAPPY WOMAN TELLS HOW SHE LOST 19 POUNDS OF FAT IN 27 DAYS

CHICAGO.—The ballyhoo against margarine in the dairy sections has failed to stampede consumers into banning this product from their tables, according to Dr. J. S. Abbott, secretary of the Institute of Margarine Manufacturers.

"Even in farming areas where margarine has been boycotted and eschewed from the retail grocery stores," said Dr. Abbott, "consumers are still interested in buying the product and in many cases are making their purchases direct from the manufacturers."

"The consumer realizes that it is his right as a free American citizen to purchase the food fats of his choice and no coercion is going to prevent him. He realizes, also, that margarine is a clean, safe, and economical product, safeguarded by a Federal government supervision through its various phases of manufacture as no other food product on the market is safeguarded."

Uncle Sam is as certain of the purity of the vegetable oils that go into the composition of margarine, Dr. Abbott declared, as he is of the meat fats, milk, salt, and other ingredients. As a proof of this he cited a cablegram from the late General Leonard E. Wood, then governor-general of the Philippines, to the Bureau of Insular Affairs in Washington.

"The vegetable oils produced in the Philippine Islands," declared General Wood in his cablegram, "are prepared in a thoroughly sanitary way and are entirely fit for human use and consumption. Coconut oil is produced from coconuts by automatic machinery without the touch of human hands. The process completely sterilizes the coconut oil produced and renders it germ-free."

HOWE CAVERNS AREA MAGNET TO TOURISTS

ALBANY, N. Y.—Tourist traffic in the United States for the 1930 vacation period will reach its peak-point in the area of upstate New York, 40 miles west of here, between the Finger Lakes region and the Catskills, popularly designated the Howe Caverns country.

More motorists, vacation-bound, will follow the macadam trails which wind lazily through the caverns country than will pass over any comparable mileage in the United States, according to a survey by the American Research Foundation.

The rolling caverns country is a strategic hub at which highways from national centers of population south, east, and west converge, to diverge again to the favorite playgrounds of Canada, the Adirondacks, and the New England seashore.

Three historic state highways, each either meeting or forming a part of a national highway between Canada and Florida, or between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, inevitably bring travelers arriving in north central New York from any direction, within the proverbial stone's throw of Howe Caverns at Cobleskill. Cobleskill is 100 miles northeast of Binghamton and 40 miles west of Albany, or 30 miles southwest of Schenectady, all terminal points of Schoharie trail, a link in the highway through the Appalachians from Florida to Quebec.

The chambers of Howe Caverns are accessible by electric elevator service to visitors. They extend two fantastic miles into the limestone heart of the highlands over which Rip Van Winkle, Leatherstocking, John Burroughs, and the border heroes of the Revolution once ranged. State geologists have termed the caverns the largest in the northeast United States and a twin-wonder to Niagara Falls.

RESIDENTIAL AREAS OF MICHIGAN CITIES MORE DANGEROUS THAN CONGESTED DISTRICTS

There are more traffic death traps in the quiet, little-traveled residential streets of Michigan cities than in their congested thoroughfares in business areas.

This conclusion, contrary to general belief, is indicated by an exhaustive survey just completed by the Republic Automobile Insurance Company. The survey covered 223 traffic deaths which occurred during the first one hundred days of 1930 in the larger Michigan cities.

Among the cities covered by the study were Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Jackson, Saginaw, Flint, Lansing, Muskegon, Benton Harbor and Ann Arbor.

"Of the 223 traffic deaths studied, 119 of them resulted from mishaps in streets in residential districts," said James F. Land, Jr., manager of the Republic's public safety division in Michigan.

Records of the accidents as well as newspaper stories relating their details were examined by the Republic in making its study.

Officer Tells What Konjola Did For Him

He Found in New and Different Medicine Just what Was Needed to Restore His Health

MR. DAVID E. SUMNER

"Konjola made me feel like a man remade and when I started taking this medicine I was about as sick and miserable as a man can be and keep going," said Mr. David E. Sumner, 1051 Boston street, Grand Rapids. "My stomach was completely out of order; my kidneys were weak, my back ached so badly I thought I could not stand it another minute. Every night I had to get up numerous times and the loss of sleep put me all out of condition for the day's work. My appetite was poor and I lost in weight and strength."

"To make matters worse, not a medicine I tried did the least bit of good. But what an experience I had when I started taking Konjola! I had not finished the first bottle before I began to feel better—and as the days passed, the improvement became more noticeable. In fact, I took five bottles and they restored my health completely. I am eating like a wood-chopper, sleeping fine and that terrible backache is no more. I'll tell the world Konjola is the medicine for me, and I highly recommend it to other sufferers."

Many express amazement at the speed with which Konjola works. It does, but a course of from six to eight bottles is strongly recommended. Konjola is sold in Grayling, Michigan, at the Mac & Gidley drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

West Branch Has Eye To Publicity

Whether West Branch's beauty queen wins the title of Miss East Michigan at the Eastern Michigan Water Carnival this summer or not, West Branch has seen to it that it gets itself plenty of publicity on its beauty contest. We'd say that West Branch, just naturally stole a march on the other communities of this territory when it staged a Junior Beauty contest in connection with its regular one this week. Eight little girls, aged four to eight years, with three young judges of the same age—and the prize: paper crown! We'd say that winner has a right to a place in the carnival pageant.

Pages In Detroit Advertise East Michigan

The East Michigan Tourist Association of advertising in Detroit will start with a full page on Sunday, May 11, in the Free Press. One-half of the page will be devoted to photographs of different sections of this territory with publicity stories on its advantages as a vacationland. The other half will be a general advertisement for the association and the advertisements of eight counties used in cooperation with the association. Ad. This is the first of a series of five pages which will be used on five consecutive Sundays in this paper.

Pioneer Farmers Knew Trade Language

When Charles E. Cardon, printer of Frankenmuth, called on us in the Log Office last week, we were talking about the agricultural prosperity of his and other East Michigan communities. And Mr. Cardon told this amusing incident. "It is told that when the first settlers came from Germany to Frankenmuth, they had only a few English expressions with which to converse with Americans. One pioneer farmer wanted to purchase some livestock from a neighbor. The newcomer said to the American: 'You cow, you calf?' and showed him some money. The American answered concisely, 'yes.' Then the German settler responded, 'well! I cow, I calf. Here money.' And the deal was satisfactorily settled."

East Michigan Fishing In Sports Magazine

In the May number of the "National Sportsman," one of the outstanding sports publications of the country, an E.M.T.A. photograph of trout fishing in the AuSable river is printed, along with a publicity story about this territory. This is used in addition to the regular space advertising of the E.M.T.A. And on another page of the same issue, in the travel section, fishing for northern pike and bass in Houghton Lake is recommended as one of the best sports of summer.

Forced To Fish Once, He Kept It Up 21 Years

The story of how Carl A. List, owner and manager of the Kokosing Resort at Long Lake in Isosco County, happened to choose Long Lake for his summer home, is a good one. "I was a shoe salesman," said Mr. List in our office recently. "And one day I had to lay over at a little place near Long Lake. I tried every way to get out, but couldn't. So a citizen said to me, 'There's nothing to do here but fish. Better buy yourself some tackle.' I objected, but finally gave in. I bought 35c worth of tackle, and had such luck that I fished most of the night. And I've been going back there every summer now for 21 years." As one explanation of this, the new manager gives the Indian meaning of Kokosing. It is: Beautiful Waters.

First Camper—But Not The Only One!

W. K. O'Neill, registered at the Bay City State Park on Saginaw Bay, is declared by the Conservation Department to be the first camper in Michigan's state parks this season. But if reports that come to us are correct, he isn't the only one by any means. We've heard of many, and on the roads towards the north, have seen several cars loaded with too much camping equipment to be a part of the few-days fishing contingent.

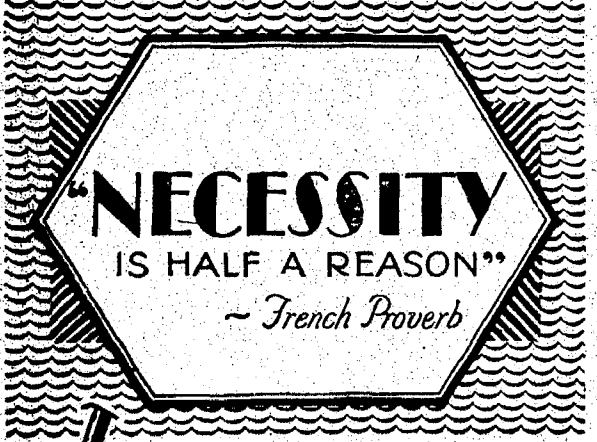

challenge cup, given by the Duke of Battenburg, which incidentally has been held by American ships for so long that the right of British ships to challenge its holder has been almost forgotten. The last British ship to win a Battenburg race was H.M.S. Repulse, in 1916.

Farm Board and Chamber of Commerce of U. S. in Open Warfare.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

WARFARE between the federal farm board and business as represented by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reached its climax at the annual meeting of the chamber in Washington. Stung by bitter criticism of the board's policies, Alexander L. Leary, its chairman, retorted scathingly. As a member of the board he uttered a challenge to match any other member "dollar for dollar" in financing a permanent nonprofit making organization to work for farm betterment, a challenge that was later accepted by Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board of the chamber and wheat director under Herbert Hoover during the war.

Mr. Leary indulged freely in sarcasm in his address.

"I am sure that most of you will agree that you know more about the agricultural situation and how to meet it than I do," he said. "A considerable percentage of your membership have made that quite clear, and perhaps the best answer I can make is the statement that if this is true, and you really know so much about it, the situation presents a very severe indictment of the organization which, having full information of the facts, has made so little effort to remedy the situation."

"When it became apparent that a means had been provided that really would help the farmer, get organized co-operatively so that he, like other producers, would have some voice in determining the sale price of his commodity, the effort was branded as government price fixing, putting the government in business, etc."

"I do not recall in years gone by of hearing you business men making any such complaint against government aid that was extended to the manufacturing industry, to transportation, and to finance."

Daniel A. Millett, an investment banker and stock man of Denver, made the chief speech in criticism of the policies of the farm board as fantastic attempts at stabilization without regard for the law of supply and demand and was loudly applauded. His own formula, "in the interest of the farmer and business man alike," he said was:

"1. Repeal the agricultural marketing act and cease any such governmental attempts, and

"2. Repeal its tariff downward, not upward, with its elimination, save in a few respects, as speedily as possible, as our idea."

Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, an ex-officio member of the farm board, defended its actions, and the discussion became general.

W. C. McCabe of Duluth, representing the grain exchanges and dealers, contended that the independent grain merchant cannot hope to meet the situation created by the farm board.

"It is the ruin of his business," he said. "It is unfair and unjust. We demand that the marketing act be modified."

Harrison Jones of Chicago said he represented a four-billion-dollar poultry, butter and egg merchandising industry. He demanded, "policy of modification, whereby American citizens may remain in business without outlaws by government interference."

The chamber, at its closing session, adopted a resolution condemning the policies of the farm board and urging repeal of provisions of the agricultural marketing act which authorize the use of public funds "for the purpose of participation in business in competition with established agencies." The resolution advocated continuance of the farm board as a proper agency for gathering information and for advice and assistance toward the solution of the farmer's business problems.

President Hoover, speaking at the chamber's banquet, said the country had slipped through the worst of its trade slump, and, with continued unity of effort, would rapidly recover.

SECRETARY of State Stimson, accompanied by two of his colleagues in the London conference, arrived in Washington and were received by President Hoover. In a brief ceremony on the lawn of the Executive mansion Mr. Stimson handed to the President a certified copy of the naval treaty and was formally thanked for the efforts of the delegation. Save for the President's aides, the only spectators at this affair were the operators of talking picture machines. The London agreement is now in the hands of the senate for ratification or rejection. Mr. Hoover expressed the desire that it be acted on at this session.

Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, the only Democratic member of the delegation, was given a hearty reception by the senate, which recessed so that he might be greeted and congratulated upon his services in London. Speaking informally, he said the treaty marks a distinct advance in world relations. He advocated a building program calling for the construction of all the warships necessary to equip the United States navy built up to the tonnage limits set by the treaty, saying that $100,000,000 a year should be expended for this purpose, during the life of the treaty. If such a sum is necessary, "to stop building now," the senator said, "would place the United States at a distinct disadvantage in the next naval conference, five or six years hence."

ITALY, always rather contemptuous of the efforts to conclude a naval reduction treaty, has embarked on a building program that seems to make Italy a navy construction race with France. A few days after launching two cruisers and one submarine, the council of ministers decreed the program for 1930. It comprises 29 units, totaling 120,000 tons, and to be laid down within a year.

The warships to be built embrace one 10,000-ton cruiser, two 5,000-ton scout cruisers, four destroyers, and 22 submarines. A feature of this program is the large number of submarines, in which arm the Italian navy is especially deficient as compared with France. Four of the submarines are to be of 1,400 tons, six of 800 tons, and 12 of 600 tons, and adapted for coastal activities in home waters.

REVOLT of the Indian Nationalists has assumed such threatening proportions that the British government has agreed to back the government of India in any action it may deem necessary to suppress the movement. It was reported in London that the arrest of Mahatma Gandhi was imminent, although influential native leaders have urged upon Viceroy Lord Irwin the view that this step would render the situation much graver. They thought a rapprochement might be reached if both sides retraced their steps. Lord Irwin replied that "as long as the law is openly defied, neither the viceroy nor his government can do anything but resist its subversion by whatever means may be in their power and in whatever way may seem appropriate."

Meanwhile the clashes between the natives and the police and troops are becoming more numerous and a number of deaths have resulted. Despite the censorship, rumors have come of the virtual mutiny of some of the Sikh troops. Two platoons of the Eighteenth Royal Garhwal Rifles refused to fire on a mob at Peshawar and were removed to Abbottabad. Incidentally, the revived censorship law caused the suspension of twelve newspapers in Delhi. The editors refused to put up the cash security of $18,000 which the law provides every paper must deposit as a guarantee to refrain from publication of seditious matter.

Gandhi's campaign, an important feature of which is propaganda against foreign cloth, is having important economic effect. The cotton manufacturers of Manchester are especially concerned.

CONVICTS in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus, who had been in a state of more or less passive rebellion since the first that killed 320 of their fellow inmates, broke out into revolt last week. They made a massed attack on the barred doors and the guards opened fire on them, wounding two. A detachment of the state troops was then called in and machine guns were mounted. Six hundred of the worst men were put in a barbed wire stockade where tents were placed and they were confined there until the burned part of the buildings has been repaired. Several others were transferred to other state prisons. The convicts had refused to work since the confiscation, but it was stated the prison workshops would soon be reopened.

SPEEDY action on the law enforcement legislation recommended by the Wickersham commission and the Department of Justice was asked of congress by President Hoover, and there were indications that his appeal would be heeded.

The President enumerated the prohibition bureau transfer bill, which has been passed by the house and recently was approved by the senate judiciary committee; bills for the relief of congestion in the courts, which have become involved in controversy in the house judiciary committee; the prison bills, which have been passed by the house and approved by the senate judiciary committee; the border patrol bill, on which hearings were commenced before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, and the District of Columbia prohibition enforcement bill, on which hearings have been held before the senate district committee.

Senator Jones of Washington, a leader of the dries, called at the White House to urge that the President call a special session of congress if necessary, to get action on the administration's program of law enforcement legislation.

RUTH HANNA MCCORMICK, appearing before the senate campaign funds committee, testified that she spent $252,572 from her own pocket in her successful campaign for the Republican senatorial nomination in Illinois. She said she received no contributions except from some members of her family. She added that she was supported by only two organizations in Cook county, the Voters' Progress club and the Ruth Hanna McCormick volunteers.

Senator Denen informed the committee that his losing campaign against Mrs. McCormick cost him a total of $24,463.21.

Mrs. McCormick read a statement in which she urged that legislation be enacted to provide a closer scrutiny of all campaign activities by senatorial candidates.

MAY DAY demonstrations were of various kinds in the various great cities of the world. In Moscow, as might be expected, the Reds put on an immense parade, nearly a million proletarians following the army through Red Square singing revolutionary hymns. All buildings were decorated and the marchers were reviewed by the highest officials of the Soviet Union. Theatrical companies gave free open air performances, and bands were everywhere. Next day the Soviet government demonstrated its technical achievements with a parade of automobiles, motorcycles, armored motor cars, fire engines, tractors, buses and tanks.

In Paris the radicals were kept from disorders by the activities of the police, and in Berlin they had parades and a huge meeting but refrained from all violence. The same was true of American cities. Japanese officials forestalled trouble by making hundreds of arrests, but the demonstrations were notable for their size and enthusiasm.

Mrs. Belle Sherwin of Cleveland, Ohio, was re-elected president of the League of Women Voters at its convention in Louisville. This was arranged under a leave of absence plan under which all the vice presidents will take turns at the headquarters in Washington. Miss Marguerite M. Wells of Minneapolis becomes fifth vice president in place of Mrs. W. W. Ramsey of Chicago. All the other vice presidents were re-elected. They are Miss Katharine Ludington of Lyme, Conn.; Mrs. Roscoe Anderson of St. Louis, Mo.; Miss Ruth Morgan of New York city, and Miss Elizabeth J. Hauser of Girard, Ohio.

Nutmeg on apple sauce should be used only when the sauce is to be eaten at once, if it stands it is likely to make the flavor bitter.

Before storing winter blankets, wash them, and put them away with naphthalene flakes between the folds. If they are wrapped in thick, heavy wrapping paper and tied with the ends turned in so no moths can get in to lay eggs, they will be safe from moth damage during the warm months.

Choose a bright, warm, sunny day for washing blankets. Use lukewarm washing and rinsing water and neutral suds. Put the blanket through a loosely set wringer, and hang it out to dry with a quarter or half over the line. From time to time squeeze the excess water from the corners.

Intelligent reading of the labels on foods and an intelligent application of the information obtained in label reading would save the consumers of the nation millions of dollars a year and would promote the cause of truthful labeling of foods most effectively say officials of the Food and Drug Administration.

At this season "pie plant" comes into its own. The following recipe for rhubarb pie with a suggestion of orange flavor is from the Bureau of Home Economics: Line a pie pan with pastry dough, and bake in a hot oven until delicately browned. Meanwhile cook 3 cups of raw sliced rhubarb, 1 cup of sugar, ½ teaspoon of salt, and 1 tablespoon of water together until the rhubarb is tender. Remove 3 or 4 tablespoons of the juice and when it is cool mix with 2½ tablespoons of flour. Cut 3 slices of orange into small sections and mix with the rhubarb. Pour into the baked undercrust, moisten the rim, lay a top crust in place, and tuck the edges in carefully so that the juice will not leak out. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

THE RICHEST MAN

The following remarkable letter was published in a Nebraska newspaper recently:

I wonder if you knew that one of the richest men in the world was fourteen miles north of Norfolk, right here in Pierce, Nebraska? That man is the writer. I am just a common "plug blacksmith," but oh—how rich! I go to my labors each morning, work until noon, go to dinner, return at 1 p. m. and work until 6 o'clock.

I enjoy the greatest of all blessings, good health. Rockefeller would give all he possesses in money or holdings for my stomach, but he can't have it.

Each day sees something accomplished, and every job of work I turn out I feel that I have done my customer a service "worthy of my hire."

I have a most wonderful little wife. She has stuck to me twenty-two years now, so I know she must be a dandy to accomplish that. I have a little home, a beautiful little daughter, a son grown to maturity, and now in life's game for himself.

Rich? Why, man alive, who can possibly be richer? Then to add to all the above riches, I take down my old shotgun in season and ramble through fields, wood and tangle in search of the elusive cottontail, teal or mallard, with my faithful old pointer at "heel" (now past 11 years old), and he is as happy as I when on the hunt. Then, when I get back, oh—how good everything does taste!

Then when night has spread its mantle over this good old universe, I settle down in a good old easy chair, enjoying a smoke and then roll into bed to be embraced by "Morpheus," and never hear a sound until the beautiful break of another day.

Rich, did you say? Well, I guess. Dollars? No, not many—you inquire about riches, not material wealth.

The height of my ambition is to so live that I may have no regrets for having lived, when the time comes for me to shuffle off this mortal coil, and I hope by that time I have accumulated just enough dollars that myself and mine may not be objects of charity.

This, then, is my idea of a rich man. If anyone enjoys life more than I do, he is to be envied for his riches.

With kindest regards,

Edward J. Meyers.

57TH ANNIVERSARY OF AMERICAN FOOD STAPLE RECALLS ROMANTIC FIND IN STIRRING WAR DAYS

CHICAGO.—Fifty-seventh anniversary of the first production in the United States of a food product now used daily in millions of American homes will be observed this year, according to a bulletin issued here by the American Research Foundation.

"The manufacture of margarine, which is a food reliance of housewives throughout the country, was first undertaken in America in 1873," says the bulletin.

"The first margarine manufacturing plant was established in that year in New York City. The product was introduced from France where it was discovered by Mege-Mouries, a food chemist, in the Franco-Prussian war. The Frenchman evolved a formula combining beef tallow, milk and vegetable oils into a product which he called 'margarine.'"

LIVE AND BE HAPPY

The drowning season is upon us.

The spring comes, the lakes are open. Boys go out onto rafts and punts, fishermen crowd the water and later in the fall the duck hunters come.

And with all of the sport and the good times come very sad days. They have already begun. Boats tip over, the waves come too high, somebody becomes careless, human lives are lost. A day or a year of pleasure is easily turned into a day or a year of sorrow.

So when you play this summer, whatever you do, play safe. Do not take chances in deep water, with big waves, with leaky boats and dangerous guns.

Be careful and be happy.

Mege-Mouries.

try launched in this country. American food scientists set out to improve the process evolved by Mege-Mouries, because they saw great possibilities in the new principle of preparing toothsome, health-giving natural fats into a delicious food form. They tried combinations of peanut oil, coconut oil and cottonseed oil and found them excellently suited to their purposes. They mixed these pure vegetable oils with wholesome meat fats and milk to give the product 'body' which is essential in spreading on bread and in cooking.

"The result has been a food product of great palatability and economy. All the ingredients of margarine, it is pointed out, are well known articles of food which the average American in one form or another every day. No other food product the housewife uses is made under more sanitary conditions. In addition to such margarine makers' careful methods of manufacture, specially employed government inspectors supervise the quality and purity of the product in every step of its manufacture."

Milk, it is pointed out, forms a large part of the composition of margarine for the reason that it contains nearly all the food elements necessary for the growth of infants and children. Fats can be more easily distributed in milk than in anything else. Milk, too, gives margarine much of its flavor. Scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture declare that the flavor of butter is not due to the butter fat, but to the flavoring substances formed in the ripening of the milk or cream from which it is made. These identical substances give the flavor to margarine which even connoisseurs find difficult to distinguish from butter.

"THE HOUSE OF COLOR"

veloped the most bitter dispute that has ever characterized a session of that body. After a large number of members, principally bankers and grain brokers from various parts of the country had bitterly assailed the Federal Farm Board and the legislative act which created it, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and Chairman Legge of the Farm Board charged the Chamber of Commerce with having sponsored the very provisions which the Congress enacted. Both Secretary Hyde and Chairman Legge made charges of inconsistency against the Chamber, while Representative Franklin Fort of New Jersey, reminded the Chamber of Commerce that the Congress acted to prevent a million and a half farm employees from being thrown out of work. "You cannot throw this number of men, together with 7,500,000 dependents into the lap of the nation without disorganizing the economic structure of this country," Congressman Fort also challenged the Chamber to provide a better solution than Congress had evolved if the Chamber wants the present law repealed. The discussion became practically an arraignment of Administration Agriculture policies on the one side and a defense on the other, with the defense having the better of the argument.

Advice from Italy on April 30 that the Italian Government has decided to lay down 29 new warships this year has caused some speculation in Washington as to what effect may be produced by this decision on the Senate deliberations relative to the ratification of the Three-Power Pact just brought home from London by the American delegation. Some students of the situation believe a new phase of discussion may be opened up by Italy's decision, while others insist that Italy's action will not affect the Senate's decision either way.

NOTED ATHLETES LAUD C.M.T.C.

Noted athletes, idols of all healthy boys in the realm of sports, have come forward with their endorsements of Citizens' Military Training Camps for young men, Phelps Newberry, Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War, made known today.

Babe Ruth the King of Swat, scored a home run for the wind and sunshine of a real summer camp in these words: "The C.M.T.C. with their supervised athletic exercises in the open air are health builders and the first essential to success in any activity is good health."

Gene Tunney who won the world's heavyweight championship and fame and fortune owes his success to the training he received in military training camps during the World War. Gene led with this in favor of C.M.T.C. Camps: "They inculcated benefit young men mentally, morally and physically. The thirty days in the open relieve the indoor man from his cares and worries of business and keep the athlete on his toes for his future contests."

Big Bill Tilden one of the world's greatest tennis players shot this one over the net: "Those who enroll will derive material benefit physically and mentally. These camps prepare a young man to perform his every day life of business and sport with greater vigor."

Charlie Raddock "the world's fastest human" sprinted in with this for C.M.T.C. Camps: "I believe them to be a great force for good in this country. They provide the city man with a remarkable opportunity for physical development and offer a month of healthful exercise without cost."

Johnny Weissmuller, world's greatest swimmer, splashed to the fore with this: "Success in athletics requires clear thinking and trained muscles. In the C.M.T.C. Camps, the Government provides a medium through which every aspiring athlete can benefit himself and I heartily recommend the attendance of every eligible young man."

The benefit of this thirty day period of outdoor training to boys is shown in the fact that the average increase in weight of boys during that period is between five and seven pounds, Mr. Newberry pointed out.

"Every boy," he said, "is given a thorough physical examination on entering camp and again just before leaving. He is not permitted to take part in any exercises for which he may not be fitted. In many cases exercises are prescribed to develop boys along certain lines where this seems necessary."

"They indulge in every form of exercise that the outdoors offers, baseball, hiking, camping, shooting, tennis, football, drilling, boxing, track and field sports, sham battles and entertainment. And the appetites of these growing, healthy, husky boys is well taken care of with all the good wholesome food they can eat, and in the middle of the morning and the afternoon they are supplied with bottles of milk to carry them over till meal time."

The training courses of these camps have been unanimously endorsed by the Western Intercollegiate Conference and such great coaches as Knute Rockne, Fielding H. Yost, Alonzo A. Stagg, George Little, L. W. St. John, George Huff, and a long list of notables.

Only a few weeks more remain in which enrollments may be made and those desiring to attend the 1930 camps should write at once to Phelps Newberry Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War, 3972 Penobscot Bldg., Detroit.

MANY ORDERS COME FOR PINE SEEDLINGS

Orders for 1,067,000 pine seedlings and transplants from individuals, organizations, etc., have been received by the Forestry Division of the Department of Conservation so far this spring, and many more are expected to be disposed of before shipments will cease, about the last week of May.

The orders are for white, Norway, and jack pine and are shipped directly from the Higgins Lake Nursery operated by the Division.

Seedlings and transplants are sold by the Department of Conservation under the condition that they be not resold or otherwise used commercially. The tiny trees are sold at the cost of production.

According to the Division's stock list, there are now available for public distribution:

White pine transplants, three years old.

Norway pine seedlings, two years old.

Norway pine transplants, three years old.

Jack pine seedlings, two years old.

The stock varies in price from $2 per thousand for the jack pine seedlings to $10 a thousand for the three year old Norway pine seedlings.

Only orders for 500 or more plants are accepted and at least 50 must be ordered in any one class. While the orders are received at the Forestry Division office at Lansing, shipments are made directly from Roscommon, Mich. All shipments are f.o.b. Roscommon and apply to stock to be planted within the state.

BOYNE CITY SCHOOL BOARD RECALLED

Three Members Voted Out In Special Election Held Monday

One of the most bitterly fought campaigns in the history of Boyne City, was brought to a close on Monday, April 28th, when three members of the school board, Anne Boylan, S. B. Neymark and Dwight B. Herrick, were recalled from office. This election was brought about by a petition, in which these members were accused of handling the school funds in a manner not according to law, which accusations have been broadcast both by the press and local handbills. These allegations were denied by these members, offering the records of the board for inspection.

The sole issue, then, of this election was the recall of these members, but some of the voters stated that they thought if the accused were recalled, other members could be elected who would engage a new superintendent. The superintendent was re-engaged and the contract signed early in March.

The supporters of both sides were out in such numbers that the poll exceeded that of any other election held in the city. It had been decided that the vote of women who had no school children, and whose joint deeds in real estate did not show in the records, should be challenged, and many went prepared with their deeds as proof of their eligibility. This method was not kept in force long, as it slowed up the proceedings and was not considered of enough importance to engage extra members on the election board to handle this office. Such great interest was shown in this question that citizens, who have not been near the polls for years, were present to lend their support to their chosen cause. The ballot stood as follows: Anne Boylan, Yes, 465, No, 308; Samuel B. Neymark, Yes, 469, No, 302; Dwight B. Herrick, Yes, 440, No, 333.

It is understood that as the situation now stands, the judge of probate must, within five days, call a special election to be held within thirty days. At that time board members will be named to fill the unexpired terms of those recalled. The term of Dwight B. Herrick expires in July this year, and the terms of the other two members expire in 1931. However, at the regular July election this year the three offices will be filled for the full and unexpired terms.—Petoskey News.

MICHIGAN COLLEGES PRESENT YEAR'S SCHOLARSHIPS TO C.M.T.C. TRAINEES

Recognition of the educational value of Citizens' Military Training Camps has been given by a number of educational institutions in Michigan who have presented scholarships good for one year's tuition to boys who are outstanding in their work at these camps.

Colleges which have donated scholarships for 1930 are, Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Kalamazoo College, Detroit Institute of Technology, Western State Teachers' College and Olivet College.

Letters from the heads of these schools expressed their appreciation of the value of training at Citizens' Military Training Camps to students. "We are very glad to offer a scholarship, carrying full tuition again this year to one of the C.M.T.C. trainees at Camp Custer," wrote T. Paul Hickey, Director of Education of the Detroit Institute of Technology. "We have the man enrolled who won it last year. He is doing excellent work."

W. O. Hotchkiss, President, Michigan College of Mining and Technology stated, "We shall be glad to donate a scholarship to some trainee at the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Fort Brady who has excelled as a student at camp. At this college we appreciate keenly the value of military training. It is most extremely worth while to our engineering students in connection with their regular engineering work, and is also productive of better citizenship."

Similar statements of approval were expressed by Allen Hoben, President of Kalamazoo College, D. B. Waldo, President of Western State Teachers College; and A. E. Vestling, President of Olivet College.

In announcing the donations of scholarships by these institutions of learning, Phelps Newberry, Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War, stated that only a few hundred more applicants for the 1930 camps can be accepted as the quota of 1,500 for Michigan is rapidly being filled. Those desiring to attend the C.M.T.C. Camps this year should apply at once to Mr. Newberry, 3972 Penobscot Bldg., Detroit.

The President Hopes Russia, Italy, Peace Workers Live Longer Cheap at a Billion

President Hoover tells the United States Chamber of Commerce, "While the crash only took place six months ago, I am convinced we have passed the worst, and with continued unity of effort we shall rapidly recover."

That will encourage many. And the banks, reducing interest charges here and abroad, will help. When money is cheap capital looks to new enterprises, which means hiring labor.

Lowering the federal reserve discount rate to 3 per cent in the New York district surprised all that lack advance information.

In accordance with our custom we followed the British, lowering our rate here when theirs was lowered. This gratifies England, which feared that a rate lower than ours would cause British gold shipments to this country.

The late W. J. Bryan would be amazed to hear congress discussing tariff protection for silver. He thought silver, at sixteen to one, could stand forever as gold's younger brother.

He did not foresee Chinese wars releasing Chinese silver hoards, or India stopping silver purchases that have stabilized silver mining for many generations.

If it were not for moving pictures, with "silver screens" using tons of millions' worth of silver yearly, more mines would close.

Certainly American screens should use American silver; and the tariff should see to it.

While it lasts, a dictatorship seems the simplest form of government. Everything is peaceful in Russia, where everybody is radical. Russia has a dictator.

Everything is peaceful in Italy, where nobody is allowed to be radical. Italy has a dictator.

In Russia, reversing the theories of Karl Marx, and managed by extremely able men, the people are quiet, obedient.

In Italy, where Karl Marx would not be publicly mentioned, a nation, naturally radical, is told that there has been too much talk about liberty, and people are obedient.

The question is, how long? A Frenchman, falling from the twentieth story, is said to have remarked as he passed the tenth floor: "It's all right as long as it lasts."

How long will it last?

A report published by Mr. Frederick H. Ecker, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, concerning 10,000,000 industrial policyholders in the United States and Canada, shows that workers are living longer than they used to.

Thanks to science and prosperity, the death rate among wage-earners has diminished. Mr. Ecker's statistical bureau shows a new low death rate of 9.4 per 1,000 during March. More adults that live, fewer babies that die, is a good prognosis.

It is said that the new tariff will cost the United States $1,000,000,000 a year. It will, probably, and undoubtedly that tariff contains many jobs, deals and mistakes.

But if the tariff enables only 5,000,000 American workmen to earn $1.00 a day more than they would have earned without the tariff, that would repay the billion with a bonus of 50 per cent, to say nothing of added profit that would encourage business men to build up industry and national prosperity.

Many of our emotions, according to Francis Bacon, make us indifferent to death, anger among others.

Eng Fu Week, sixty-two, and Eng Loy, fifty-one, Chinese, and cousins, fought with heavy meat cleavers. When the police arrived both had fractured skulls and gashes on heads and bodies, yet the police were compelled to separate them by force. One will die surely, the other, probably, and it was all about a blanket.

Cost of travel by air and rail between New York and the Southwest is reduced to less than regular railroad and pullman car travel.

Flying from New York to Dallas, Texas, or Oklahoma City, you save $6.24 in cash, 18 hours in time.

And these cuts are made by the Pennsylvania railroad itself.

Mr. Lamont, our secretary of commerce, called up on the telephone recently by Sir Henry Thornton, had a pleasant talk.

Mr. Lamont was sitting in Washington. Sir Henry was traveling at high speed through Canada on the Canadian National Railway system.

Sir Henry sent his regards to President Hoover and the American cabinet. Seventy-one telephone calls were made from that Canadian train as it rolled along.

Jack Barstow establishes a new record in air gliding, remaining up more than fifteen hours in a plane with no engine. The mark isn't official, but the record will start in to beat it. Their record is fourteen hours and forty-five minutes.

Heroine Honored

Sculptured by Leonardo Taft this notable monument of enduring marble was dedicated recently at White Hall, Ill., to the memory of Annie Louise Keller, a school teacher who gave her life to protect the children entrusted to her care. When a tornado swept over central Illinois on April 19, 1927, the school, with Miss Keller and her twenty-two pupils, was in its path. She ordered each child to crawl under a desk while she kept watch at the door. The building went down, killing the teacher, but every one of her charges escaped uninjured.

NEWS & COMMENTS FROM WASHINGTON

(By Congressman Roy O. Woodruff, Tenth Michigan District.)

In one of my letters early in April I stated my objections to the Senate proposal for a flexible tariff and prophesied at the time that when Congress is permitted to pass upon a proposed tariff on any commodity, it would invariably result in even a fair tariff on that commodity being defeated. My reasons for that prophesy were that there are 435 Congressional Districts in the United States and there is no single commodity produced in a sufficient number of districts to guarantee proper consideration of tariff requirements.

The House of Representatives on Friday last was presented with an opportunity for a separate vote on a number of different items in the tariff bill. In every instance the House voted in favor of the tariff, and by an overwhelming vote adopted the lowest rate offered. The items voted upon included sugar, which is one of the agricultural crops of paramount importance to farmers of our state. Only 27 Congressional Districts in the United States produce sugar. The Eighty-eight Republicans joined with the Democrats to defeat the higher rate proposed. In my opinion the action of the House on this question will, in the end, spell the death of the sugar beet and sugar cane industry in this country, and the great consuming public will be left at the mercy of the greedy and price-gouging sugar pirates of Wall Street and Cuba, who, during the entire year of 1929 exacted an average price from the American public of 15 1/2 cents per pound.

It is clear that Congress cannot be depended upon to exercise sufficient courage and fairness to properly decide what an equitable tariff should be upon any single product if considered by itself. As I dictate this, the House is about to decide whether it will follow the recommendation of President Hoover or the lead of the Senate in regard to the flexible provision in the tariff bill. In my opinion, if the Senate provision is agreed upon, the President will veto the entire tariff bill.

Two unemployment bills were passed in the Senate last week to provide regulated construction of public works with a view to tiding over periods of unemployment and stabilizing industry. The measures require monthly unemployment reports. A third unemployment bill was held over by the Senate as unfinished business to be taken up following action on the nomination of Judge John J. Parker to be Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court. A bill seeks to provide a national employment system.
